All visitors to HMS Drake who do not hold an HM Naval Base Devonport pass must enter the establishment via Camel's Head gate, having been issued a temporary pass at Camel's Head pass office before entering.

Route to Camel's Gate - HM Naval Base, Devonport

When approaching from the east join the A38 to Plymouth. As you approach Plymouth (downhill) on the A38, you will come to Marsh Mills roundabout. At the roundabout, stay in the middle lane and use the flyover. As you cross over the flyover above the roundabout, you will see a Sainsbury's Superstore down to your left (the building has sail like constructions on the roof).

Stay on the A38 past the Tavistock (A386) turning (and under the Manadon Roundabout). Filter off left at the next turning, signed Devonport Naval Base (B3396). Stay on the B3396 passing a fire station (and 30 mph speed camera) on the left, continue straight ahead through two sets of traffic lights. As you cross through the second set of lights, Camel's Head Gate will be in front of you.

Personnel who do not hold valid personal and vehicle passes are required to have a Naval Base sponsor. Visitors with or without security clearance will be issued a temporary pass at the Pass Office, however, visitors without appropriate security clearance will have to be escorted. The Pass Office is accessed by taking the first exit on the mini-roundabout immediately in front of Camel's Head Gate.
